02 RESEARCH NOTES

Use this section to capture what you find before filling in the tool. Website notes, social media observations, anything that stands out.

Use the existing website as inspiration, extract existing services, About Us information, contact details

Blue Arrow Solutions — Gap Analysis

Critical Issues

1. Dangerously thin content Every service has a single sentence. Google and AI search engines (Perplexity, ChatGPT, Google SGE) need substantive content to understand what you do, who you serve, and where you operate. Right now the site would be largely invisible in AI-generated answers because there's nothing to quote or summarise.

2. No individual service pages Every service — bookkeeping, tax prep, payroll etc. — lives on one page with ~15 words. Each service should be its own page with 400–800 words, FAQs, and a clear CTA. This is the single biggest SEO gap.

3. Local SEO is almost non-existent "Pretoria, South Africa" appears once, in the footer. There is no suburb, no area-specific copy, no Google Business Profile schema. Searches like "accountant in Pretoria east" or "small business tax Centurion" would never surface this site.

4. Zero schema markup No `LocalBusiness`, `AccountingService`, `Person`, or `FAQPage` structured data. Schema is what AI crawlers use to extract reliable facts — without it, you're invisible to featured snippets and AI answers.

Significant Gaps

5. No testimonials or reviews The "Why Us" section is a bullet list of promises. There are no client quotes, star ratings, or case studies. For a financial services firm, trust signals are conversion-critical — people are handing over their tax records.

6. No FAQ content FAQs are the highest-returning SEO investment for a firm like this. Questions like "Do I need a bookkeeper if I'm a sole proprietor?" or "How do I register a company in South Africa?" are exactly what people search and what AI assistants answer. None of that exists here.

7. Blog / resources section is absent Zero chance of ranking for informational queries. A monthly article on SARS deadlines, provisional tax tips, or CIPC registration would compound traffic significantly over 12–18 months and build authority with AI search engines.

8. Meta description is generic The current meta description reads like a tagline. It should be rewritten to include location, specific services, and a hook — something like: "Pretoria-based Chartered Accountants offering bookkeeping, tax returns, payroll and advisory for small businesses. Free consultation available."

9. Page title could be stronger `Blue Arrow Solutions | Accounting, Tax & Advisory` — "Pretoria" should be in the title tag for local search.

Conversion Weaknesses

10. No pricing signals whatsoever Not even a "packages from R X/month" hint. Visitors have no way to qualify themselves, so most will bounce. Even a vague tier structure (Starter / Growth / Premium) reduces friction significantly.

11. The contact form is the only CTA There's no live chat, no WhatsApp button (huge in the SA market), no calendar booking link (Calendly etc.). A WhatsApp CTA in particular would likely double enquiry rates for the South African demographic.

12. Social proof is credential-heavy but human-light Hilgard and Nichelle's qualifications are listed but there are no photos in context, no personality, no client story. For a small firm competing against the big four, the human relationship is the product — lean into it.

13. Hero section is vague "Trusted financial guidance for individuals, small and medium-sized businesses" describes every accountant in the country. It needs a specific claim — niche, location, or outcome. E.g.: "Pretoria's go-to accountants for small businesses — from your first invoice to your year-end return."

14. No urgency or seasonal triggers Tax season, provisional tax dates, and CIPC deadlines are natural hooks that could be surfaced as a banner or announcement bar to drive timely enquiries.

04 DESIGN DIRECTION

Vibe / Mood

e.g. Dark and serious, warm and artisan, clean and clinical, bold and energetic clean and easy to navigate. Warmth that is absent from most accounting businesses. Black and white look and feel. Small details of delight, animated buttons, gradient border animations. Use negative space and typography as design elements in the absence of available images

First 3-Second Goal

e.g. What should the visitor feel or think immediately — one sentence

this business makes the complicated world of accounting less intimidating

Hero Treatment

e.g. Dark gradient background, full width image, light minimal, split layout straight to the point. White with lots of white space. Minimum text. No fluff. Easy to navigate on mobile. Nothing superfluous

Primary Accent Colour

e.g. #B5451B, deep forest green, warm amber

black and white

Background Tone

e.g. Light / Dark / Mixed — off-white #f5f5f0, near-black #141414

Font Feel

e.g. Editorial serif, clean geometric, bold display, delicate thin

Modern serif

Font Colour

e.g. Near-black #141414 on light, white on dark sections

black

Font Sizing

e.g. Large bold headlines, generous body text 18px+ medium sized headlines, body text generous for mobile view legibility

Copy Tone

e.g. Warm and direct, authoritative, conversational, aspirational no BS. Straight to the point. Conversational and warm. Inviting.

05 COPYWRITING

Headline Idea

Write your best attempt at the hero headline. It should speak to the customer outcome, not the business features. If stuck, describe what you want it to make the reader feel.

Cut through the confusing BS. Know what to do with your money. Customer should feel – 'someone can just explain this to me like I am 5'

What This Business Is NOT

e.g. Not corporate, not clinical, not cheap, not loud not a boring, stuffy, plain old accounting business. Not corporate. Not hiding behind jargon

One Thing Most Competitors Get Wrong

e.g. They all look the same, no personality, outdated sites, no trust signals focusing on the same features and not the benefits of sound, clear, straightforward financial advice

06 COMPETITOR NOTES

List 2-3 direct competitors and what you notice about their online presence. The brief tool will do deeper research but your human observations are valuable here.

Competitor 1 — Name + URL + observation

<https://strachancrouse.co.za/taxation> - only focused on their services

Competitor 2 — Name + URL + observation

<https://grit.co.za/>

lots of text, vague on benefits

Competitor 3 — Name + URL + observation

<https://krestonsa.com/pretoria/>

outdated website, boring look and feel

07 GOALS & CTA

Primary CTA

e.g. Book a free consultation, Call now, Get a quote, Visit us

book a consultation

What does success look like?

e.g. What action do you want the visitor to take — be specific fill in the query form

Email capture angle

e.g. What would make someone give their email — discount, checklist, newsletter no idea - what is best practice in this industry?

08 ASSETS AVAILABLE

09 ADDITIONAL NOTES

Anything else that would help — personal context, history of the business, things the owner said that stood out, anything the research tool won't find.

This is a small 2 person business. They give no BS advice, telling you what works, not hype. Sceptical of most hype-advice, they focus on doing accurate work, saving you money and making sure you know what to do with your finances.
